Folk Festival To Be In Anson May 28-30

ANSON, May 12.—An unusual request has come to Anson from the national director of American Folk Festivals, Miss Sarah Gertrude Knott of St. Louis, that Anson have a Folk Festival here which will be a regional affair. The date for the Festival has been set for May 28 to 30.

In order to gather material for the National Folk Festival in Dallas, festivals have been set in towns and cities of Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New Mexico and Anson was selected for this region as an appealing place for gathering materials and in consequence of the popularity of Larry Chittenden among lovers of Folk Lore.

An urgent request was made that the Cowboy's Christmas Ball be staged because of its national appeal, visitors at the National Festival want to see it in Anson, and it will be lived again in the gymnasium on Thursday night, May 28. On Saturday night, May 30, the highway patrol will turn the traffic from the east side of the square, and the pavement will be given over to the Cowboy's Christmas Ball.

Friday is designated as Pioneer Day and the Lions Club will care for them. Prizes will be given to the oldest resident of the County, to the oldest man in the county, to the oldest married couple and to the oldest bald headed man. On the same day in the Woman's Club House there will be displayed many historical papers and antiques and will remain in the club until the close of the festival. On Saturday and Sunday the public will have an opportunity to display anything made with the hands. Hooked rugs, hand-made quilts and numerous other things will be a flower show. On Friday night there will be an old-time fiddling contest, old time singing, games and cowboy sing-songs. Judges from the National Festival in Dallas will be on hand to select materials wanted there.

It is announced that a special train by way of the T & P will leave Anson Monday night, June 15, carrying passengers from several West Texas towns, who are to re-enact Larry Chittenden's Cowboy's Christmas Ball before the National Folk Festival in connection with the Texas Centennial.

Miss Lenora Barrett, local historian, and head of the Woman's Club has charge of the arrangements for the festival.

SANTA FE OFFERS $4,900 IN PRIZES FOR 4-H CO. WINNERS

CHICAGO, May 13. (Special)

To stimulate interest in 4-H club work along its lines this year, the Santa Fe Railway System provides substantial prizes to be awarded outstanding county champions in livestock, poultry and crops projects. The prizes are to be used for educational purposes, such as defraying the cost of attending events like the 15th National Club Congress to be held in December in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition.

Fifty-eight prizes are assigned to seven states, as follows: Kansas 12, Oklahoma 16, Texas 19, Missouri 3, Arizona 2, and Iowa 1. State Club Leaders make the awards which are limited to one to a county.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

ON OLD AGE PENSIONS

This is the first of a series of questions that the people of Texas are asking. Orville S. Carpenter, state pension director, answers them frankly and to the point:

Q.—Why cannot assistance be paid to every person in Texas who is 65 years of age or older?

A.—First, because the Texas law says that assistance may be paid only to those "in need"; second, because the Federal Government will not allow us to pay Federal money to people who are not in need.

Q.—Will not Federal money mean a lot to Texas.

A.—Yes. It will mean that several millions of dollars each year will be given to the good people of Texas that they would not otherwise get; it will mean that with it a person will be able to receive as much as $30 a month, and without it no one could get more than $15 per month.

Q.—What does the Federal law say about "need?"

A.—It says that the Federal appropriation is made for the purpose of enabling states to assist "aged needy and individuals" (Sec. 1)

Q.—Was this "aged needy individual" question checked.

A.—The Social Security Board stated that this was the correct interpretation of the law.

Q.—How does the Texas definition of "needy" compare with that of other states.

A.—Texas has the most liberal definition of "aged needy individuals" in the United States. The Texas law is much more liberal on this point than that of any other state in the Union.

SCHOOL NEARING END OF SESSION

From the signs and excitement going about Hamlin and especially among a big lot of Seniors, one would guess that sometime soon school is to close.

The Seniors have been delayed in getting their invitations to their graduation programs, but they came Thursday and are now in the mails. This is a great event in their lives and the pretty invitations should promote a response by the receiver, so that the graduate will be doubly glad he calls you his friend.

Next week the Herald will carry full details of the closing features of the school.

ATTENDED BIG CONVENTION IN AMARILLO

One of the big events of West Texas is the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. This year, in fact last week the scene of the "jubilee" was in Amarillo.

From Hamlin went, W. E. Benson, local Chamber of Commerce Secretary, Tate May, local Director of the WTC., Tom Teague, President of Hamlin Chamber of Commerce, J. E. Moody, local director and Miss Mattie Wilkinson, "My Home Town" representative for Hamlin.

They went up on Sunday afternoon and returned Wednesday. A great time was reported by Mr. Benson for the whole crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Pope visited in Tulsa over the week-end to spend Mother's Day with Mrs. Pope's mother, Mrs. J. J. Sigler. While on the Plains, they also visited her sister, Mrs. N. L. Ball and family and Mr. Pope's oldest brother, J. B. Pope and family in Lubbock. In all, their visits were highly enjoyable.

REV. J. S. HUBBARD DIED MONDAY

Rev. J. S. Hubbard, perhaps the most deeply loved and widely known rural minister of this part of West Texas, passed away at his home between Neinda and Boyd Chapel, Monday morning at 8:20 o'clock, after many weeks of illness from heart trouble.

—Rev. Hubbard was a native of Cherokee County, Alabama, born in 1879, thus making his age 57 years. He moved to Jones County in 1907 and lived on a farm near Boyd Chapel and later moved to the farm farther west where the rest of his life was spent.

He is mourned by the companion and the following children: Travis, Herschel, Joe and Loy Hubbard, all of the home community and Cloda Hubbard of Anson. Three daughters, Mrs. Valley Hodges, Mrs. Johnnie Woods and Ruth Hubbard, all also of the Neinda community.

In Rev. Hubbard's immediate circle of relatives are two brothers, Joe Hubbard of Neinda and G. F. Hubbard of Breckenridge and three sisters, Mrs. J. L. Weaver of Hamlin, Mrs. L. H. Weaver of Colorado, Texas, and Mrs. B. L. Atkinson of Wellington, Texas. Seven grandchildren survive.

The deceased was a very ardent and devoted christian gentleman—a minister who preached with his whole heart and soul. He had been pastor of several churches in this part of Texas and as a mark of the esteem and valuation his neighbors had for him he served his Neinda Church for more than 23 years, always taking the lead in whatever might mean most for his greatest devotion. He was plain, outspoken, fearless and very energetic. His life's work will live many years after his fellow acquaintances have passed away. Many churches over this part of West Texas were represented at the funeral, which was held at the church of his long career at Neinda, Tuesday afternoon. Rev. J. W. Cundiff of Lamesa and Rev. A. B. Thornton, of Haskell County had charge of the services and the Maples Funeral Home was in charge of the burial in the Neinda Cemetery.

The friends from the many churches of the county and surrounding counties were at the funeral in numbers too numerous to list here,—pastors, church clerks, and deacons from places where the deceased had worked—all to pay their last tribute to a "soldier of the cross." Mrs. W. J. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Rogers of Port Worth were present, in acknowledgment of their love and esteem of him who had lived upon and managed their farm lands for more than twenty years. An unusually large number of nearby friends were present at the funeral.

OLD LAND-MARK BUILDING

GETTING NEW LEASE OF LIFE

If you pass down Central Avenue and observe a "new looking" Hamlin Hotel, the Dillard House, just remember it is a new dress. Contractor, A. G. Arnett, has torn away all the old two-story gallery and erected a short one only in front on the Main Street. The entire structure is to get a Stucco treatment over the wood siding. This will make a great improvement in appearance for the entire street.

LIONS DEVOUR BARBECUED CHICKEN

When it comes to "hiding away" barbecued chicken, no crowd of fellows can excel the Lions, and we mean Hamlin Lions—But perhaps we are going too strong about the carnivorous habits of the Lions, maybe there is a bunch of fellows, called Rotarians, who can chase chicken "round and round," and wind up with more chicken than even "Young Lions." Anyway, Tuesday evening's cool shadows found not only the Lions and their Lionesses at the T. K. Smith River Bridge Park, but a number of Rotarians and others as Lions' guests. It was a short twilight picnic, just the kind that satisfies the appetite and ends with a feeling of happiness that you were in the party.

The Herald would tell who made the lemonade out there but it would work a hardship on the young fellows to let that be known, as so many would want in on it. Really, all they lacked was lemons, and a little ice, otherwise it was good. The chicken barbecue was so good it would not be dignified to josh about it. If we got it right, Mayor Culbertson bossed the barbecue and made a good job of it. The ice cream, the bread, the pickles, and the onions were good.

Smith Park is not a large place, but a dandy place for a small group outing. It is just a few minutes away from Hamlin and will appear shorter when the road is hardsurfaced and there is no dust. The park should have some kind of lights, and it should be cultivated every week. There is plenty of room for more shrubbery and flowers. If any one desires sand between their toes, over in the river is a good place to wade.

Thanks Lions, for this pleasant evening out with you.

P. T. A. INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

The Parent Teacher Association held its last meeting of the year on Thursday, May 7 at the Grammar School building.

The new officers and chairman of standing committees were installed in a ceremony conducted by Miss Viva Milsted. A note book for memorandum and record with the names of the committees were presented by a pupil, with a charge as to her duty, to each office.

The following officers compose the executive committee: Mrs. Mac Brundage, President; Mrs. Mart Farrow, Vice-President; Mrs. Tate May, Treasurer; Mrs. Bob Low, Secretary; Mrs. Fred Moore, Chairman Program; Mrs. Joe Culbertson, Health and Welfare; Mrs. Q. Martin, Finance; Mrs. Ira Clements, Hospitality; Mrs. W. T. Cherry, Publicity; Mrs. H. A. Longino, Parent Education; Mrs. C. G. Green, Chairman Playground; Mrs. M. T. Hudson, Membership.

Mrs. Brundage presided over the meeting. The program was made up of reports from the delegates to the Spur Conference.

The summer round up will not be held this year, but parents are urged to see that children are in good physical condition to enter school next year. A child should have the right to enter school as free as possible from all remedial defects. The summer vacation is a good time to check up.

Miss Mae James room won the prize for the greatest percentage of members present.

Mrs. M. E. Cherry of San Angelo is spending the week here as a guest of her son, W. T. Cherry and family. She came up last Saturday to be here on Mother's Day, but before arriving here a telegram was forwarded from her address to Hamlin saying that her mother, Mrs. H. A. Pridgen at Bowie was very ill. She was at once taken by Mrs. Cherry to Bowie, and the aged mother passed away at 2:15 Sunday morning, age 87 years.

SENIOR DAY AT CARLSBAD

Last Friday morning the Seniors, accompanied by five chaperones left Hamlin bound for Carlsbad Caverns. We went by Roswell in order to see the Bottomless Lakes. This is a longer route, the lakes and the beautiful little city of Roswell were more than enough to repay us for the extra miles. We arrived at Black River Village about 7 p. m., Friday, spent the night there. The icy water of the river running through the camp is an ideal place to go swimming.—Saturday morning we were awake early, that is, most of us were. After breakfasting at the Lodge, we set out for the Caverns. We stopped at White City and then arrived at the Caverns about 10:30. Since it was "Governor Day," there were over two-thousand people present.

Our trip through the Caverns was over about 4:30 p. m. and we left immediately for home, arriving in Hamlin Sunday morning at 5 a. m.

Mrs. Clyde Whitaker of the Wise Chapel community, sends the Herald to her mother, Mrs. W. M. Watson, at Dallas, as a Mother's Day remembrance. Mrs. Watson is a former Hamlin citizen and will enjoy hearing from her friends through the Herald.

ACID STOMACH GET QUICK RELIEF

If you are suffering from indigestion, atonic dyspepsia, sour stomach, gas pains, "raw stomach," inflammation of the intestines (enteritis), gastric acidity and such headaches, due to excessive acidity, you can't afford to ignore these warning signs. You should try at once the Doctor's Prescription, known as Gasa Tablets. If you allow these conditions to become worse, the acids may eat into the delicate mucous membrane of your stomach and intestines and possibly cause dangerous ulcers. Gasa Tablets are pleasant to take and they start to work in just a few minutes to give gentle, effective relief of pain and discomfort caused by excessive acidity. They soothe the raw, inflamed lining of the "acid stomach," and help convert starchy food into dextrose, which is so essential to energy of the body, and preservation of health. Because of their remarkable success in many cases of acidity, and digestive troubles resulting from acid conditions, Gasa Tablets are offered now to sufferers under a guarantee that the first bottle must produce results or money back. For only a few cents a day, you may now have the benefits of this Doctor's Prescription which has helped so many other sufferers to a greater joy of living. Ask your druggist for Gasa Tablets. Take just one or two of those quick-acting, soothing, antacid tablets and see how they help your stomach to "tackle a hearty meal."

Refreshing Relief When You Need a Laxative

Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. . . Mr. J. I have taken it for constipation and the dull feelings that follow, and have found it very satisfactory."

A CLOSED BED

"A closed bed is one with a patient in it," Mrs. N. L. Crowley told members of Swedonia H. D. Club at Mrs. B. C. Carriker's May 7. The correct care of this bed is a comfort to the patient and nurse; and must be done with the least disturbance to the patient. When bed is made up, miter the corners of the under sheet and tuck well. Put rubber sheet across center of bed and a folded draw sheet over it and tuck both securely. Next is the upper sheet put on to cover the pillow, then the quilt or blanket put on to come up just enough to cover the patients shoulders. The top sheet is folded back over the edge of quilt. Bathe the patient before changing bed linen. Have a pan of water and two wash cloths. One for the face and one for the body. Bathe face first and dry, then bathe the arms, body and legs in order given. Take off the quilt and spread clean sheet over the soiled top sheet, slip the soiled sheet from under the clean one. Push clean top sheet over to the patient and roll the draw sheet in tight roll over next to the patient. Holding the roll gently roll the patient over to the far side of the bed. Place clean draw sheet in place and going to the far side of bed, roll the patient gently over to the center of bed and remove soiled draw sheet and smooth the clean one out and tuck, straighten the top sheet and put on quilt or blanket and half miter the corner, so they will hang over the edge of bed. Run the left hand under the patients head and remove pillow. Change the slip and put pillow in place again. The patients pulse and respiration should be counted before the bath and bed making. Count the respiration while appearing to count the pulse, so the patient wont know the breath is being counted.

Mrs. B. C. Carriker, president, called the club to order. The roll was called by Mrs. Jerry Crowley as Miss Gertie Young was absent. The Expansion committee for the Royston part of club reported "contacting 38 farm women" and "explaining the club work and offered to help them in any way the club can help.

That is the conclusion which the Sophomores come to as they planned their farewell party at their last class meeting, Wednesday at noon. GOING TO DALLAS FOR THE EXPOSITION

Here Are Two Ways To Enjoy The Centennial

1. Go in a Hart Schaffner & Marx Dixie Weave suit. It's coolest and smartest because it is all-wool, feather light, of porous weave. It absorbs and evaporates moisture, and best of all, holds its shape day after day. The Centennial is no place for a one day suit!

2. Visit the Hart Schaffner & Marx exhibit in the Varied Industries Building. See the development of style through the centuries. Inspect the scientific research and testing laboratories. Learn how the whole world

While embers glowed the reconstruction started

Before the flames had reached the telephone switchboard in the little Arkansas town—before the swirling wall of smoke had driven operators from their posts—plans for rebuilding the fire-doomed office were under way.

At a great warehouse in a distant city, men were loading a new switchboard, new telephone cable, new office equipment, into express cars. Nearer to the spot, cable splicers and workmen skilled in telephone construction were being taken from their jobs and rushed toward the office about to be destroyed by fire.

While embers still glowed in the fire-twisted skeleton of the old office, the work of reconstruction was under way.

One advantage of the Bell System's far-flung organization is this: When disaster flattens the telephone system, men and money and materials are instantly available for the prompt repair of the damage.

FAMOUS CLOTHING EXHIBIT AT DALLAS

Dramatizing what Texas and the whole southwestern territory means to Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes is the central idea around which this famous clothing manufacturer's exhibit at the Dallas Centennial is built. It was announced this week by Mr. Dean of Bryant-Link Co., exclusive local Hart Schaffner & Marx dealer.

"Texas produces more wool than any other state in the Union," said Mr. Dean. "And since Texas wool is of exceptionally high quality, an unusually large proportion of it goes into Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes. 'Mohair, extensively used in the blending of rare wools, especially in fine overcoatings, practically all comes from the Angora goat ranches of Texas,' Mr. Dean states. 'This new and profitable industry is a growth of recent years, as only a comparatively short time ago all mohair was imported from Asia Minor.'"

"Even southwestern cotton fields contribute their part," Mr. Dean emphasized, "since pocket material is made of cotton, and cotton liners form the base from which fine celanese linings are made. And the horns of many a Texas steer go into buttons."

In addition to the Texas scenes, the exhibit which is in the Varied Industries Building, shows from historical and scientific standpoints how the modern business of making fine clothes has grown. The development of men's styles through the ages is depicted in colorful murals; sources of authentic style in Europe and America are photographically shown.

"The Hart Schaffner & Marx research and testing laboratories, in which new patterns and fabrics are created, and all materials are tested for quality, can also be seen in operation," said Mr. Dean.

"Lastly, the hidden portions of a suit are exposed to view, with an immense map showing how every continent contributes its choicest materials. 'The exhibit is an education in the development of an industry,' concluded Mr. Dean, 'which is second only to the procuring of food in the development of civilization—for man made clothes of a sort before he learned to make a fire.'"

By his father's stern command, Jackie was forbidden to stay behind in the playground after school hours. He must come straight home, etc.

But Jackie forgot one day and arrived home very late, very dirty, and very tired.

"Look here," said his father angrily, "didn't you promise me that you wouldn't stay out and play games?"

"Yes, father," was the meek reply.

"And didn't I promise to punish you if you did stay?"

"Yes, father," said Jackie, still more meekly, "but as I didn't keep my promise, I won't hold you to yours."

"The man who gives in when he's wrong," said the orator, "is a wise but the man who gives in when he is right is . . ."

"Married," said a weak voice in the audience.

PREVAILING WINDS

(Editorial from

The Paris Texas News)

There are many critics on the work being done by what are commonly called "government experts" and frequently the government's crop program or the effort to aid relief clients is held up to ridicule by reference to some of the finer points of the great nationwide movement to give the average man some of the blessings long enjoyed by others.

A merry though silent ha ha greeted a government engineer who recently speaking on work done to ascertain the prevailing winds in a farm community in order that new farm houses that were to be erected could be built so that the most frequent winds would not blow across the barn lot into the kitchen or so that bed rooms could be located to catch the cool breeze. "Tommy rot," some one says.

"That's about all the government is doing," says another and then comes the remark of what the government wall paper experts are doing for the aesthetic influence of wall paper designs on the farmer's wife. "The idea of bath tubs in the home of negro farmers," is an actual remark heard recently. These points can be held up to ridicule and usually produce a good laugh but after all, what's wrong with a bath tub in a negro farmer's home? What's wrong with any farmer having a bath-tub in a home that is cool and comfortable, with the proper interior decorations with flowers and shrubs? Why should we laugh at the efforts to give the people of rural America decent living conditions, better schools, community clubs and centers and those things that build the cultural side of life?

Business men spare no time or expense for efficiency and city dwellers are purifying the air in their homes and installing air-conditioning equipment and every known convenience of the age and are searching for more comfort, convenience and efficiency. That's all well and good, but for the rural residents to be thinking of such appears ridiculous in the eyes of some people.

But it is gratifying to know that progress is being made. This new age, inaugurated with the beginning of our present national democratic administration, has made people think as never before. Out of the thinking there is coming both good and bad, but the good so far has greatly outweighed the bad.

To know the prevailing winds may not appeal to those who have air-conditioned homes, but the wind has turned the straws slightly away from those who for years have been favored by government and is now favoring to some degree the greater body of American citizenship and most thinking, far-sighted people are glad to see it. About half of the jesting over the government's program is an effort to be funny and not because people think deep down in their hearts, that efforts to make life really richer, fuller and more enjoyable for all the people is the silly brain-storm of impractical professors.

YES, Bud, it does make a difference which way the "wind blows." Let the Herald remind you, also that a certain Senator, a Democrat too, has made light of a certain state called Virginia, perhaps, celebrating the completion of the 100,000 sanitary closets—a state (we did not say which) that has been having thousands of children to die each year from some form of bowel trouble because of flies carrying disease from old toilets to tables and bed rooms—it makes a difference—Don't it?

"It Still Grows In My Garden"

There was once a weighty problem And for ever so very long,

It went 'round and 'round

Inside my head—

Like the tune of a Bothersome song, I fretted and I fumed, And I steamed all the day, But I never did discover The successful way.

I pulled and I weeded and I madly swung a hoe— But did that uproot my worries?

Frankly—NO! I coerced and I wheedled, and I pleaded all in vain, For when I thought my problem solved,

It presented itself again.

So at last I've decided Just to leave it up to fate,

For what's the good in useless foaming

From morning until late?

I've worn out my garden tools, And I've shocked my Sunday vocabulary—

But the Johnson grass keeps growing,

'Cause it's just—plain—Contrary.

BAKED BEANS TO CLOAT OVER

TO make a really good dish, as every good housewife knows, one must start with really good ingredients. The best cakes are made with the best butter and eggs. You can't fool a cake.

That is one of the reasons that the housewife in preparing a "different" vegetable dish which she wants to be unusually good, so often starts with beans. She recognizes that canned beans are an excellent food just as they come from the can. But because it's Spring, maybe, or maybe just because she likes to be refreshingly "different" at any season, she decides to combine beans with other good foods. Her first step is to consider the many varieties of canned beans.

Many Kinds—All Good

There are the Boston baked beans baked in iron pots in a hole in the ground by Maine lumbermen who know their beans. They are rightfully called bean-hole beans; there are pork and beans cooked and canned under processes which give us delicious full bean flavor; there are beans cooked with tomato sauce—mellow beans with a tang added.

Eat and Cloat

And because women have recognized the goodness of beans and used their ingenuity in new ways to serve them, bean dishes have been devised which are indeed a subject for gloating. There are curried baked beans which blend the fragrant East Indian spices with the flavor of brown beans simmering in meat juices; there are New England stuffed tomatoes which combine oven-baked beans with minced onion and ground Virginia Ham—all neatly stuffed into delicious baked tomatoes. The possibilities are without end for delicious combination bean dishes.

A Million Miles WITHOUT AN ACCIDENT on Firestone HIGH SPEED TIRES

- ★ WILL STOP A CAR UP TO 25% QUICKER!
- ★ GIVES GREATER BLOWOUT PROTECTION!
- ★ GIVES 25% LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE!

BUY ON PROOF OF PERFORMANCE

A MILLION miles on Firestone Tires without an accident. That is the record of Ab Jenkins, famous driver, who has driven on all kinds of roads and in all kinds of traffic in every state in the union. What a tribute to safe, dependable, tire equipment! Make this proof of performance your guide in choosing new tires to protect yourself and your family.

There are three important facts you should know about the tires you buy—

1. THE FACTS on TRACTION and NON-SKID SAFETY

A leading university in 2,350 tests has found that the new, scientifically designed tread on the Firestone High Speed Tire stops a car up to 25% quicker.

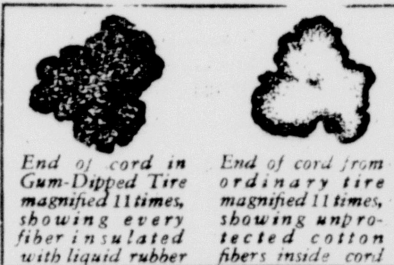

2. THE FACTS on BLOWOUT PROTECTION

Ab Jenkins used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires when he drove his 5,000-pound car over the hot salt beds at Bonneville, Utah, in the record-breaking time of 127 miles per hour, covering 3,000 miles in 23½ hours without a blowout or tire trouble of any kind.

3. THE FACTS on ECONOMY and NON-SKID MILEAGE

The largest transportation companies in the country, such as Greyhound, to whom safety and tire economy mean business efficiency, use Firestone Tires from Coast to Coast and from Canada to the Gulf. And our own test fleet records prove that the new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1936 gives you up to 25% longer non-skid mileage.

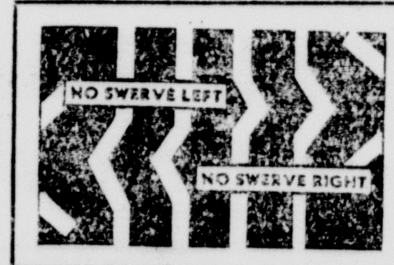

The Firestone High Speed Tire for 1936 proves by performance its superiority in all of these three qualifications. Make this proof of performance your yardstick of safety and value. Decide today to equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1936—the safest driving equipment money can buy.

Gum-Dipping not only strengthens the cords but prevents heat inside the cords, where it insulates the tiny fibers against friction and protects Firestone High Speed Tires from blowouts.

This heavy, broad, traction and non-skid tread is held to the cord body of the tire with Two Extra Layers of Gum-Dipped Cords, a patented construction, making the cord body and tread an inseparable unit.

The angles in the scientifically designed Firestone High Speed tread are so placed as to stop a car quicker and without side-sueve. Its super-traction and non-skid efficiency have also been proved in the famous Pike's Peak Race where for eight consecutive years it has been used on the winning cars.

Senator Wilbourne B. Collie Submits His Platform and Views On State

ECONOMY IN GOVERNMENT

"The people elected me to the Senate on a platform of rigid economy, and the 43rd Legislature—of which I was a member—was the first in the history of Texas to reduce the running expenses of government. A reduction of twenty-eight per cent in the four major appropriation bills, totalling $13,144,905.00, was made. We had inherited a deficit in the treasury of approximately ten millions, and through the adoption of the Homestead Exemption amendment—one which I favored—the revenue of the state was reduced about four millions a year. Because of this, the Legislature sought to balance the budget through reduced expenses rather than by the levy of additional taxes, and it refused to levy them, thus carrying out our pledges to the people.

"After these reductions were made, it became our duty, in response to a mandate of the people at the polls, to provide for the Centennial appropriation of $3,000,000.00 and the relief bonds of $20,000,000.00. These issues were favored by the people by tremendous majorities, and as unemployment and need prevailed everywhere, the Legislature created the set-up providing for work relief in various governmental activities rather than the dole, which the people themselves did not want.

"Furthermore," he continued, "the people were requiring increased appropriations for other essential functions and obligations of the government. In order to keep the schools open, provisions had to be made to permit the increase in the per capita apportionment to its highest peak, $17.50, and rural aid appropriation was increased from five to ten millions of dollars. The salaries of teachers remains shamefully low, and they have to discontinue their warrants, as do all state employees, but the legislature did not raise taxes. On the other hand they were lowered.

"Our Eleemosynary Institutions required new buildings and equipment to house and take care of the unfortunate insane, blind, deaf and dumb, epileptics, Confederate and orphan homes, crippled, dependent and neglected children, girls in training school, tubercular patients and others. In spite of this, we have been unable to take care of, and provide buildings for hundreds of persons applying for admission to the State's tubercular hospitals; the hundreds of insane now confined in the jails of Texas; the scores of epileptic patients that ought to be in the colony at Abilene and the long list waiting for the state to do its duty and make room for them in other institutions. Many of the inmates of these institutions are now sleeping on the floors. While many demands for money were being made, I thought it better to dispense with and disallow them by my vote until we could make every necessary provision for these wards of our state. It is a moral wrong to neglect them.

"I did not favor respoising salaries and creating any board of department except those made necessary by a vote of the people. I believe it to be my duty to do my dead level best to carry out, put into operation, and discharge the obligations voted by the people. I favored the Old Age Assistance Amendment as a wholesome governmental policy, both in the submission and at the polls, and by its adoption we were, and are, bound to make provisions to discharge. The tremendous amount of money needed to meet this obligation alone is generally recognized, although there are varied viewpoints regarding the nature of the program, and the corresponding amount of money which that program will require.

"It is certain that the liquor taxes, under any proposed program, will not be sufficient for Old Age Assistance, not to mention the demands for the care of our diseased sick and others society must provide for. After giving these matters serious thought and study, I supported increases in the taxes on corporations, the franchise tax, sulphur, utilities gas, oil, liquor and others.

REVENUE AND TAXATION

"The State gets its revenue, mainly in the following particulars: About twenty-two million a year from ad valorem; about eight and quarter-million in gross production taxes on oil; about five millions annually from the sale of cigarettes; twelve hundred thousand last year from beer sales; and about four millions will be realized from licenses and taxes upon intoxicating liquor; half a million from gas and power companies; a million from sulphur; half a million from pipe line companies; in all these gross receipts taxes amount to $11,059,306.99. The occupation taxes on Insurance Companies brings in two millions annually; the franchise tax a million and a half; the gasoline, or motor fuel, tax brought in net last year $33,550,273.84 and the car license fee more than five millions.

"The State's revenue is spent, mainly as follows: Out of each dollar received, forty-one and a half cents goes for highways; thirty-six and a half cents for education; five cents for Eleemosynary institutions; six cents for relief; one and a half

Mrs. A. P. Hughes, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "I was very weak, highly nervous. Was in bed 6 weeks. While in bed a friend advised me to try Williams S. L. K. Formula. I tried one bottle. began eating and sleeping soundly. I continued taking S. L. K. until I could do my housework and walk around. Then continued to gain strength. Seemed as strong as possible for a person 58 years old. I sure feel fine."

G. L. Farnsworth, well-known Columbus, Nebraska man, says: "I have taken almost three bottles of Williams S. L. K. Formula. I believe it is the medicine for me, the best I ever took. I felt very poorly. Had to quit Dairying and went to Daws county. The druggist up there advised me to try S. L. K. Formula. I took one bottle and commenced to feel better. Took one more and came home feeling like a different man. I am 76 years old."

cent for Executive and Administrative expense; seven-tenths of one cent for Legislative expense; one cent for regulation of business and industry; and approximately two cents for the courts.

"The taxes upon business, industry and natural resources will, of course have to be increased to share these new costs of government.

"We cannot look to ad valorem on property for additional revenue. Valuations and rates are carried at almost the maximum all over the State. These taxes must be reduced or it will reach the point of confiscation.

"The above figures show principally the present contributions of industries to the support of the state. Some of them, like our farms, ranches, and business properties, have suffered from the effects of the depression and economic disorder. Oil, in this West Central Texas district, for instance, carries an extremely heavy burden. There are about six thousand wells in the district and the average daily production per well is less than four barrels. Such wells, at $1. per barrel, means an average of less than $4. per day. The land owner gets one-eighth, they have the expense of pumping, and pipe line rates cost 25 cents per barrel to get the oil to deep water. In addition they now pay a 2 cent per barrel gross production tax, and a heavy ad valorem tax to the state, county, schools and other local subdivisions. Suppose the tax was raised to 15 cents in this district. What would that mean? It goes without saying hundreds of people would be thrown out of employment, most of the wells plugged, leases cancelled, new development stopped, and our chief means of business and livelihood would be seriously impaired, if not destroyed. This district is a field of depleted wells in the main, and the disparity between it and the large flush pools is apparent. The wells are owned by local independent operators, who are ever ready to contribute in substance and time to the support of government and better conditions for all, and in this district these fellows cannot stand increased taxes that might be born by the industry in flush fields.

"Let me say, however, that the proposed tax on oil was graduated on a sliding scale according to the number of barrels produced and in my district would not have suffered the increases levied on oil from more productive fields. I agreed to take a 25 per cent increase in my district simply because I didn't want our patriotism challenged, and be accused of being punitive in voting taxes on the people and industries of other districts—and to the credit of our own people, who are deriving they wired and called me, saying: 'very little out of the oil business, That's all right—we will stand the burden and do even more than our part.'

OLD AGE PENSIONS

Collie deplored the fact that so much time had been lost between the approval of the Old Age Assistance Amendment to the Constitution and its being put into effect. He also expressed dissatisfaction with some provisions of the law passed by the Legislature and said that he sought to amend and correct the measure at the time it was pending.

"It is being urged in many quarters," he said, "that the law is deficient in several particulars, but let me remind you that this decision has been reached after months of calm and cool reflections; whereas, in the midst of the rush and heat of debate when the bill was before us for passage, I introduced a written motion (page 252 of the Senate Journal) which would have eliminated every defect which is now being complained of. The changes which I advocated then would have started the payments last fall; would have eliminated the section which gives the power to investigators to discriminate between deserving applicants; would have reduced the administrative expense in half; and would have placed all qualified applicants under the law on an equal basis, with no distinction made in their standards of living. If the standard of living clause remains in the law, there will be a deferential in the aid grants, not contemplated by the people, that is both discriminatory and unfair. Under such a policy a person of moderate means and used to all the comforts and many of the luxuries of life, accord receive more than the person who is in need of support whatever. To pay a person of means more than another who is in need is grossly unjust, and the provision in the law authorizing it should be repealed.

COURT REFORM

"I expect to continue the fight for court procedure reforms. The bar associations of the state, as well as many leading laymen, have repeatedly endorsed these bills, but the legislature has failed to cooperate in their passage. In effect, they would eliminate technicalities, delays and absurdities, save expense and subserve a better administration of justice.

"There are other matters of extreme importance, and these issues and principles of government will be discussed candidly with the people, with confidence they may be duly considered to the advantage of public interests."

HONOR BESTOWED ON DISTRICT

"Although I am serving my first term, my colleagues were generous enough to elect me President pro-tem of the Senate. This place usually goes to a much older member, his seniority being recognized, and is often the subject of an interesting, though friendly, contest. In this instance, it was by unanimous vote by secret ballot and was all the more gratifying because I have not always agreed with a majority of the Senators when important measures were before us and I have not hesitated to stand for what I considered the best course for my district and my state even though I might stand almost alone at times. However, when it became my duty (as I saw it) to differ from other Senators, I sought to take a position based on principles, unclouded by personalities or personal feeling.

"The President pro-tem of the Senate is the ranking officer to the Lieutenant-Governor. In the absence of both the Governor and the Lieutenant Governor, the President Pro-tem of the Senate becomes the acting Governor.

"I was born in this district. I have lived here all my life; I know its industries and its needs; I love its people; they have been good to me, and my only ambition is to serve them."

—SENATOR WILBOURNE COLLIE

Conoco Chemist Wins Renown For Oil Researches

ONE of the most far-reaching of recent scientific discoveries—the "alloying" of oil to extend the life of automobile engines—is credited in large part by engineers to L. L. Davis, unassuming young chemist in the laboratories of the Continental Oil Company at Ponca City, Oklahoma.

With Bert H. Lincoln, the company's chief chemist, Davis patiently tested a thousand obscure chemical compounds to find one that, mixed with oil at the refinery, would establish an independent and permanent protective film on motor metal and thus permit the oil to do its work satisfactorily, even under the higher stress of modern lubricating conditions.

No such chemical substance existed, so Lincoln and Davis synthesized a quasi-magnetic chlorinated ester which they called methyldichlorostearate. X-ray diffraction tests conducted by Professor G. L. Clark of the University of Illinois showed its behavior.

Lincoln and Davis put together this compound with a bow to Sir William Bragg, an English physicist who ten years earlier, while blowing soap bubbles, made observations indicating that the presence of an ester might bring about a desirable regimentation of oil particles.

First revealed to the scientific world at the last meeting of the American Petroleum Institute, the Davis-Lincoln process was a fea-
